A Hodgson Cottage at Southfield, New York

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

This book has been made possible by the generosity and graciousness of our many friends who have supplied us with the pictures of their Hodgson Houses, and by those whose enthusiastic letters of commendation of our houses have given us inspiration and encouragement.

To these friends we tender our grateful thanks.

E. F. HODGSON CO.

INTERESTING FACTS

FOR more than forty years Hodgson Houses have held a unique position in all parts of the world, being used for many purposes. They have given enjoyment to people in all circumstances, in many climates, and under the most trying conditions. They have stood every test so well that today our best customers are those who have used the houses for years.

Hodgson Houses are used by people who can have anything that money can buy as well as by those of moderate means, all finding them an excellent investment.

They are found in prominent locations on many of the finest estates of America — Rockefeller's, Astor's, Frick's, DuPont's, McAlpin's, Ames', Endicott's, Gould's, Vanderbilt's, Cabot's, Belmont's, Fenno's, Lowell's, Crane's, Iselin's, Morgan's, Field's, and many others.

You will also find them in the woods of Northern Maine, in the mountainous regions throughout the country, and along the bleak coast of the Atlantic — from Labrador to Florida, unprotected, in very exposed locations.

They are used in many foreign countries under extreme weather conditions of heat and cold, earthquakes, tornadoes, etc.

The unusual and convincing letters printed in this catalog, signed by nationally known persons, tell you how good our houses are, while we confine our efforts to showing you how they look by means of actual photographs — not artists' drawings — with a few details concerning their construction. The photographs, however, cannot show the actual charm of the houses.

And so we urge you to visit one of our salesrooms or exhibits, where you will find one of our large cottages, as well as various small ones, completely erected and furnished.

If none of the plans shown in this catalog meet your need, let us plan a house for you "tailored" to your taste, without obligation on your part.

Our many years of experience in planning our houses insures to our customers practical plans that show a great amount of thought and skill — rooms of the right proportion, every window and door in just the right place, ample closet room, and every bit of space used to the best advantage.

FIGURING OUR HOUSES AND ADDING TO THEM

We have an accurate method of figuring the cost of our houses by a unit system, as described on pages 46 and 47. How this is done is illustrated on page 34. Thus it is an easy matter to figure the original cost as well as the cost of additional units to increase the size of your house later on. We sell each year many additional units to our customers for houses erected from one to twenty years ago. It costs no more to add to our houses after years of use than the additions would cost if originally put on. For other small cottages see pages 39-52-53.

Hodgson Cottage on Lake Michigan

At Katonah, New York

"I enclose a picture taken of our cottage right after our heavy snowstorm last winter at Katonah, New York.

"Instead of a week-end proposition as we originally intended, we are staying out at Katonah for most of the spring and summer, and even using the house week-ends until December with comfort.

"The house has stood up splendidly. Heavy snows were on it for weeks last winter and did no harm. We are delighted with it."

ALFRED WENDT, 131 East 23rd St., New York City.

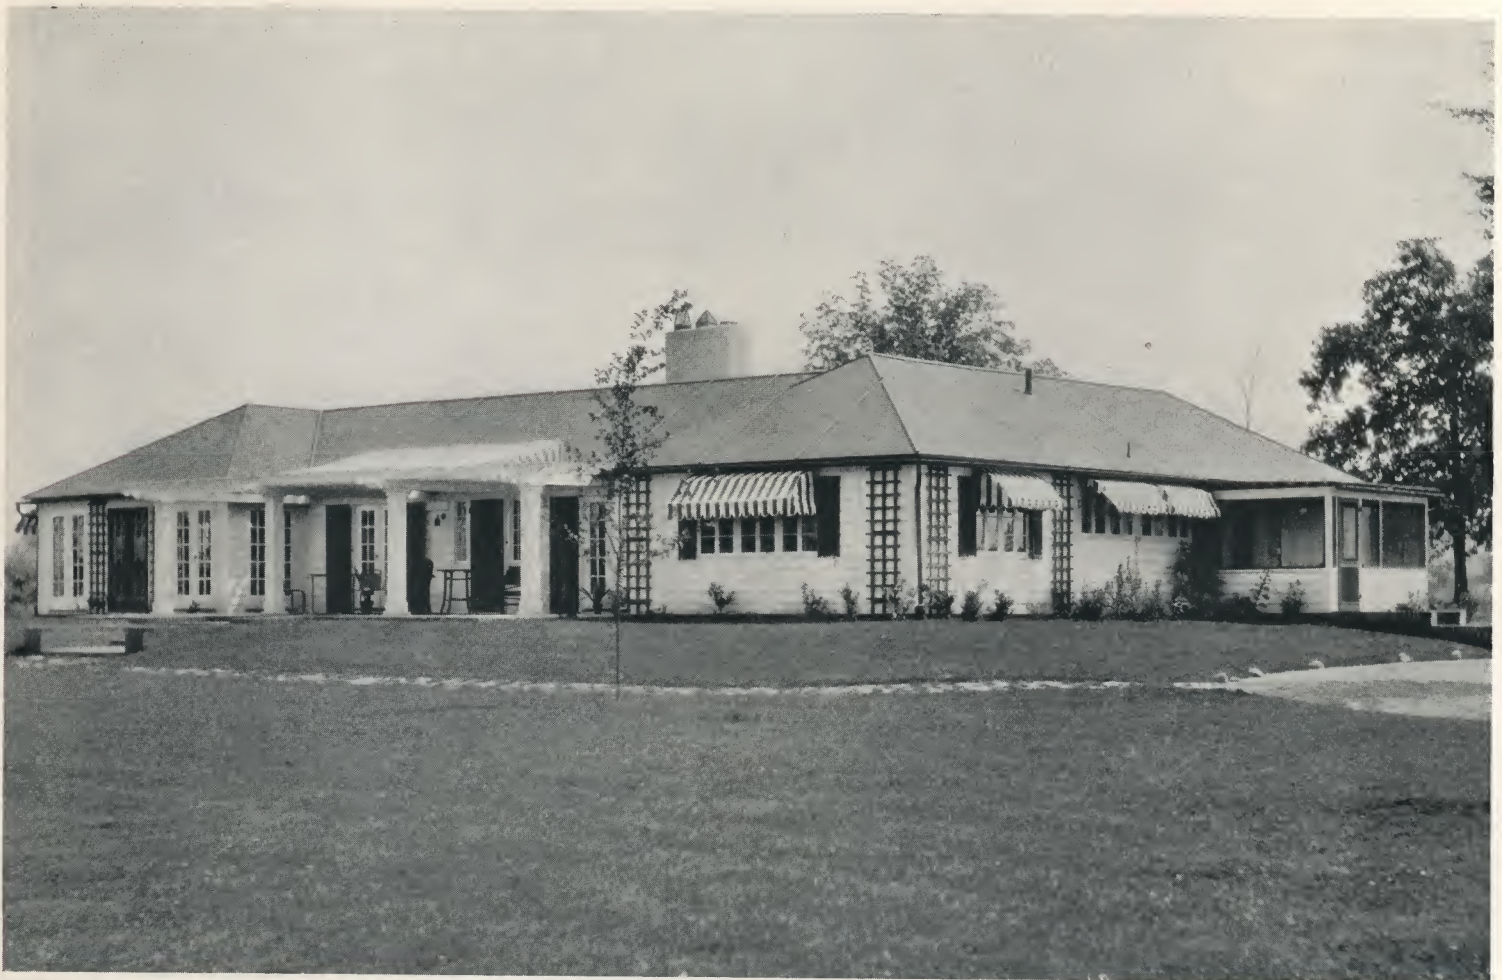

"Keeping Fit" . . .

"I have kept my Hodgson cottage open the year around, installing an Arcola system, and have had every comfort and convenience; in fact, have had no difficulty in keeping the house comfortably heated at ten below zero.

"The primary object in having a place of this sort is that one can go there over the week-end or during the week for some real exercise and relaxation. The property is eighteen miles from my office and the roads are good, so I can make the run in thirty or thirty-five minutes with ease. It is also sufficiently off the beaten path to assure one real privacy.

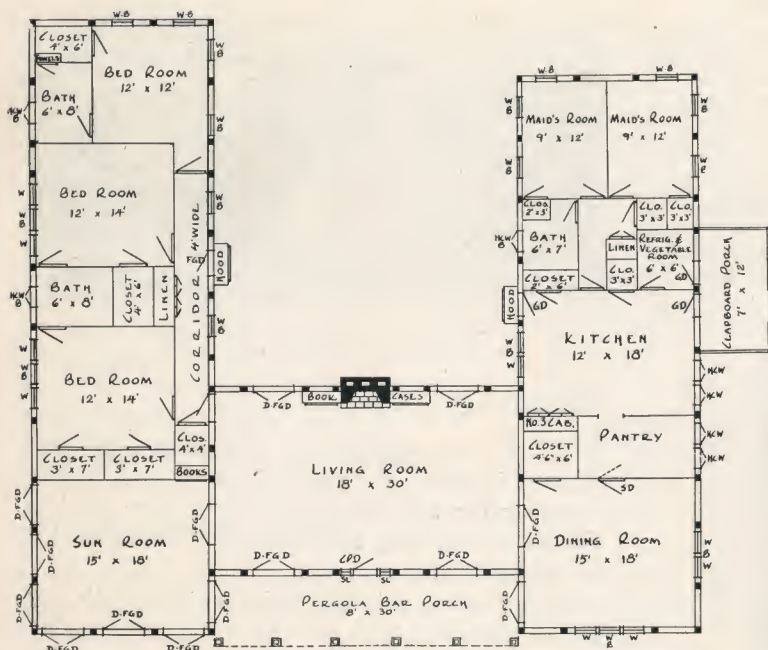

"As Roosevelt often said, 'To be fit mentally one must be fit physically.' The little place is serving the latter purpose."

Florida Hurricane of September, 1926 . . .

"The Hodgson Cottage erected by you for me on Bradentown Beach, Gulf of Mexico, went through the terrible hurricane of September 17th and 18th without any damage of any kind. This is remarkable when I relate that cement and brick business places on the beach were seriously damaged, the bricks or blocks being blown out of their places."

"The cottage was not only not damaged in the least, but nothing in it was hurt, and the clothing and beds and all furniture were entirely dry on the afternoon of the 18th, indicating that water had not leaked in."

"I know of no more severe test that a structure could be put to than this hurricane, the worst in the history of this State or perhaps of the South, and this cottage was entirely exposed without any wind breaks, or any other buildings near it to protect or shield it."

"I am pleased to tell you that the interior arrangement of our Hodgson Cottage as to looks, comfort and practicability, is most satisfactory and what surprises me most, is the fact that every door and window fits to perfection and swing or open with the pleasing comfort of an old shoe."

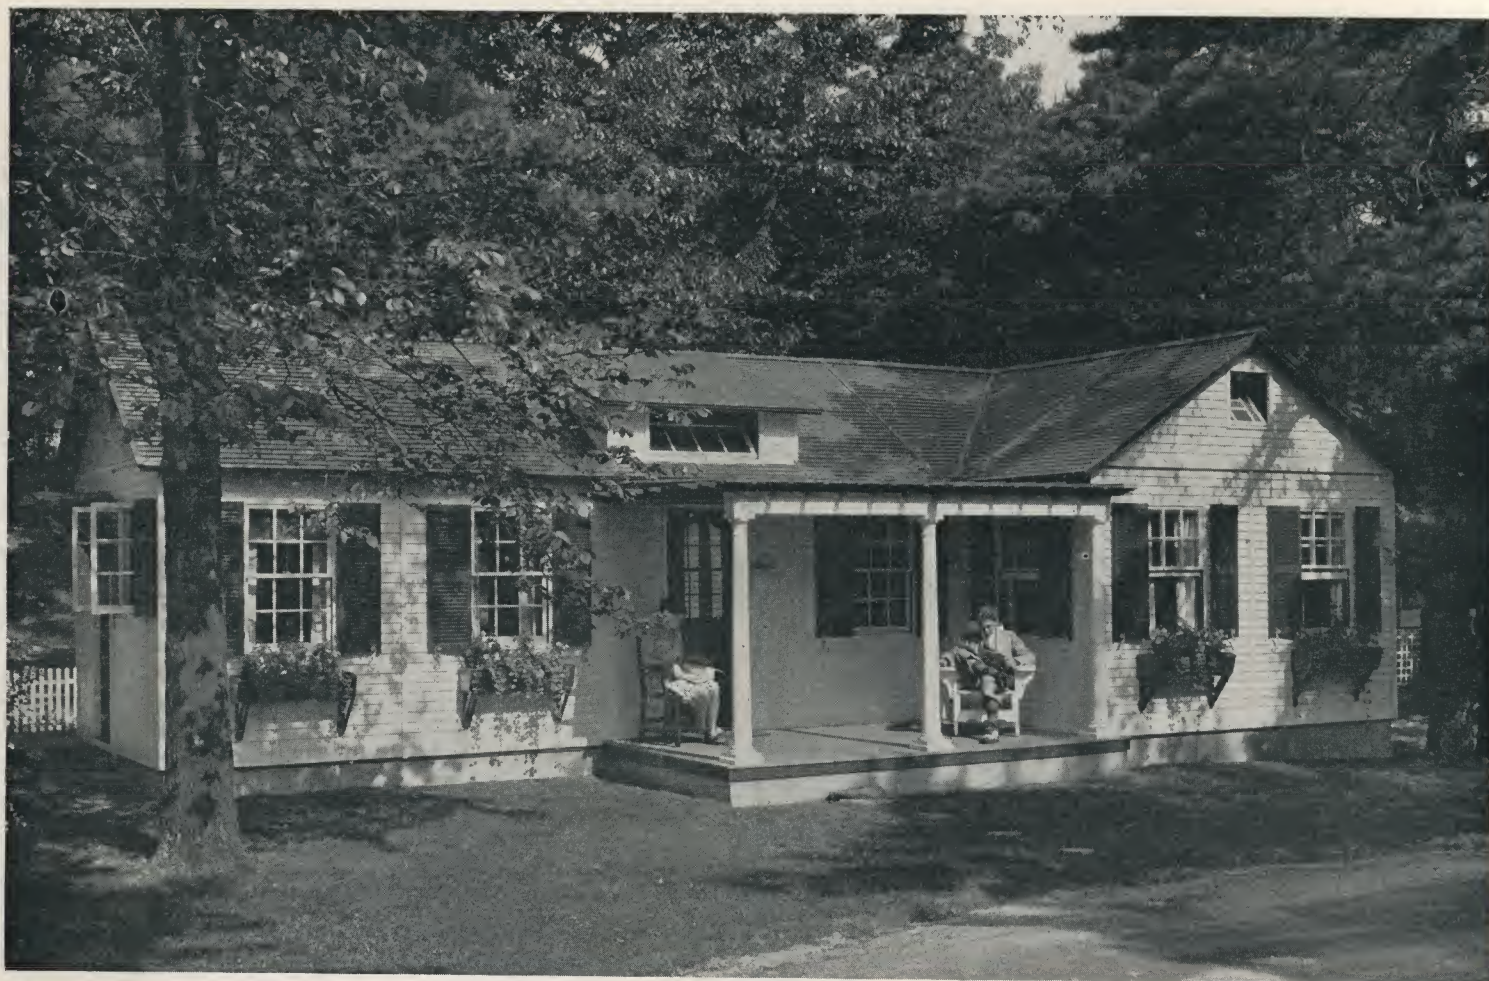

"The construction seems to be weather proof as we have had no leaks or breaks and I believe with a little care, an application of paint occasionally, this house will afford comfort and satisfaction indefinitely, as far as years of service are concerned."

"We find the house easy to heat and with a Howland Furnace and oil burner, we do keep all rooms at the same and desired temperature."

Plan No. 3310

THIS cottage is well planned for a small family, yet it is easily enlarged if you wish more room.

The cottage on page 7 differs from this in as much as this one has a valley roof making it possible to turn the units to run in another direction, while the cottage on page 7 shows the units running in a straight line. With a valley roof it is possible to arrange the rooms more conveniently at the same time improving the outside appearance.

The dormer window shown in this cottage is an excellent feature for light and ventilation.

For details, read pages 44 to 49. Other small cottages are shown on pages 39, 52 and 53, as well as being shown throughout this book.

"I may say that the cottage and garage, which you forwarded me, have been found to be highly satisfactory, as I found that everything you sent complied fully with your statements and representations, and I think the best statement I can give you is if I were to start again to build a summer cottage, I would repeat the order and use your cottage and garage as they have been entirely satisfactory in all respects."

Lake George, N. Y.

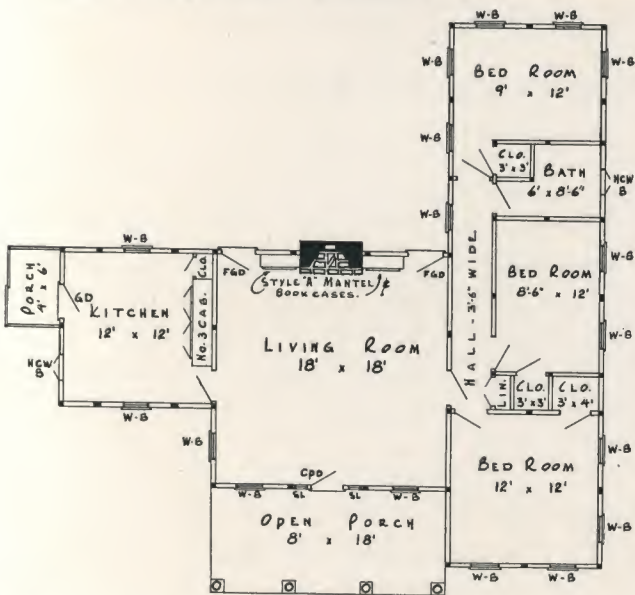

"The Hodgson Cottage I now have has been in use for the past three or four years, and has given me such excellent satisfaction and comfort that I would not consider buying elsewhere now that the question has come up for me to move to another location, making it necessary to buy another house."

"The house is erected at Lake George, where, as you well know, we have very severe winters, but it has come through admirably—never leaks a drop of water and is apparently in as good condition now as the day it was erected."

EVANGELINE BOOTH,
Commander-in-Chief.

"The houses that you built for us in Franconia have proven eminently satisfactory and we have recommended them to a great many people who have looked at them and who have been delightfully surprised at their compactness and charm."

Among the Mountains in Elizabethtown, N. Y. . . .

"We have erected a Hodgson cottage on a mountain plateau, entirely surrounded by mountains—a very imposing location. That was the spot I picked to locate our house, but I said nothing but a hundred thousand dollar house would be appropriate. Our little cottage, however, fits right into the grandeur and is perfect in every way."

"We are thoroughly satisfied with the Hodgson house itself, with the work of your men in erecting it, and with our relations with your Company. Our cottage is the object of universal interest and admiration in the neighborhood, and is a great satisfaction to us in its comfort and beauty. If all your customers are as well pleased as we are, I am not surprised that you are content on your orders, as your man stated."

"For three summers this house has been a most satisfactory summer home for my family, and the only drawback has been that it was not large enough. I hope to remedy this defect this summer, by adding a room or two."

E. C. ROPES.

This cottage moved fifteen miles . . .

"This bungalow which you sold Mr. Robert W. Pomeroy of Buffalo several years ago, has been sold to Mr. Horace B. Pomeroy and was taken apart and re-erected on the Lake Shore some 15 miles from Buffalo."

"The interior was papered and decorated and we have not had to replace any of the decorations. We strongly recommend to your customers the purchasing of such a well constructed home."

CHARLES FORREST.

LAKEVIEW, NEW YORK

"We are delighted with the bungalow and take a great deal of enjoyment in showing it to our friends who are most enthusiastic about it."

"You probably remember the interior is papered and painted with attractive color scheme and colorful chintz at the windows and French doors."

"The pool in the patio at present is a dream of color with the petunias in full bloom around it. We often have breakfast in the patio. Our whole family is enthusiastic about it."

"The picture shows in some small degree the charm of our place."

"It may interest you to learn that one of your cottages, erected some seventeen years ago on the grounds of the Homestead Country Club at Danvers, Mass., is still giving fine service as a summer camp. The roof is as solid today as the day it was erected and the writer speaks from experience because he has slept many times in this camp and viewed with interest the unusual stability of a building of this kind."

Hodgson Cottage at Williamstown, Mass., stained Cabots brown with a green roof. It is far more attractive than a photograph can show it and an ideal finish in wooded sections. Simply oil and no stain on the sides is attractive and durable.

This Sunshiny cottage is made up of 6 x 12 ft. units as described on pages 46 and 47. Other plans show a combination of the different sized units increasing the width of some of the rooms.

We quote the prices for all our cottages for both single walls, fibre board lined; and double walls, Arctic board lined. If for use during eight of the warmest months, the single wall is all that is necessary. Later it could be double lined for year around use, if desired.

"I take great pleasure in answering your letter immediately in order to tell you how very satisfactory both my Hodgson Houses have proved.

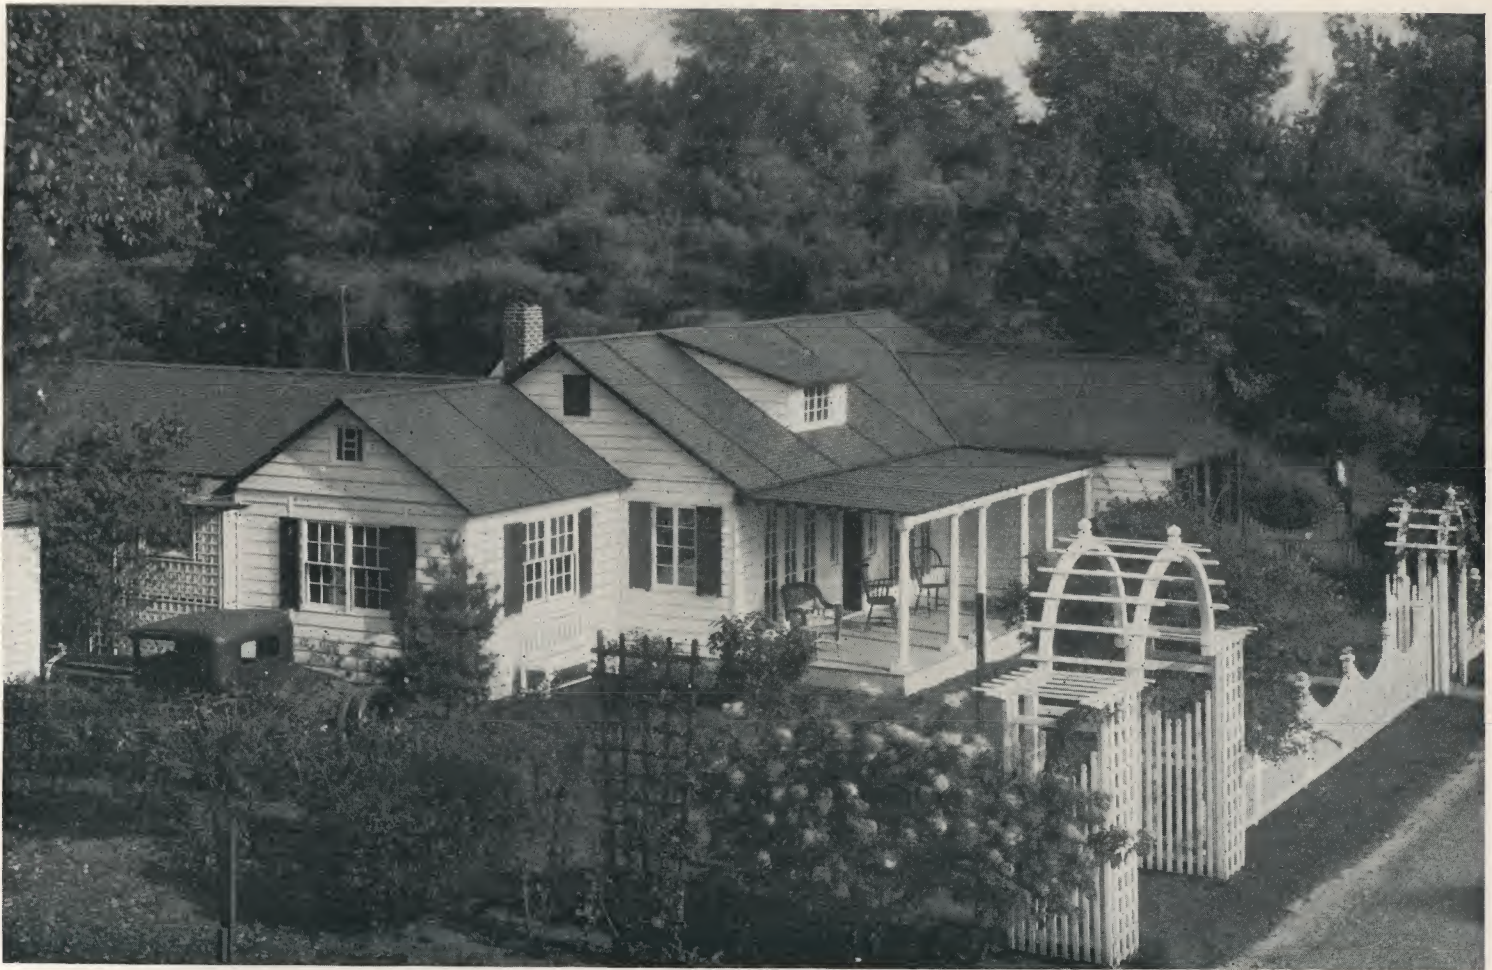

"One of them was erected about seven years ago and the other four years ago. In all that time I have not had to make a single repair on the houses and spent no money on them with the exception of painting the roof of the older house."

At Williamstown, Mass. . . .

"In the Spring I bought a house from you, to be erected in Williamstown, Massachusetts. No transaction that I have ever had has been more satisfactory. Everything in the way of workmanship was of the highest grade; the house fitted together perfectly; the hardware was attractive; the doors had glass knobs; the dormer windows were provided with window cords; the clothes closets came with rods on which to hang garments. These are the little things which show the thought and care with which you worked out every detail."

No Repairs for Twenty Years . . .

September 25, 1931.

My dear Mr. Hodgson:

"Your houses have contributed to the happiness of every member of my family. I bought the first one many years ago as a Birthday present for my eldest daughter, then a very little girl.

"Her happiest childhood memories are associated with that house, and today it brings the same enjoyment to her children. Through all the years it has stood the brunt of winter and summer storms, never needing a repair, and one certainly could not ask for a better example of good and enduring workmanship.

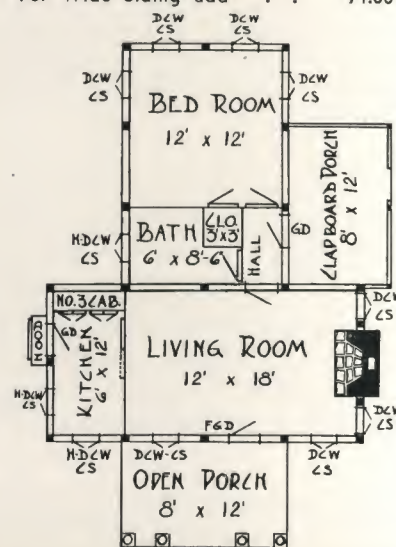

"I anticipate the same satisfactory service from the bath-house, a purchase of more recent years, which is already the source of the greatest comfort and enjoyment to all who use it.

"With every good wish for the continued success of your 'happiness' houses."

Yours sincerely,

"The Hodgson house you sent me, without question is a beauty. For your information I could state that it took only five hours to put it together, with no skilled labor. We have had several storms since it was erected, and not one drop of rain has come in. It has created quite a little curiosity among the people in the vicinity, and we have been asked many questions by them."

This ideal country house is used the year around. The heater in the basement keeps it comfortable during the coldest weather, at a great saving of fuel over other constructions.

The Vestibule unit is worked into this plan, giving additional protection to the entrance — a desirable feature for cold weather.

A convenient coat closet is in the Vestibule.

In the ell unit are located the cellar stairs; this ell also serving for a back entrance.

The Vestibule and Ell units are both shown on page 47.

E. F. Hodgson Co.,
1108 Commonwealth Avenue,

Gentlemen—

"I have often thought that the man who designed and developed the Hodgson House should be decorated as a special benefactor of mankind and had he lived in any other country but America, I believe he would have been.

"I have been using the Hodgson Houses for years, both in Maine and in Westchester County and each Spring I marvel how they have withstood the blasting winters they have gone through. Each one in particular seems to defy the elements and when you realize that both of these climates are very hard during the winter months, and that after many years not even a stain of melting snow has come through, one can realize how well they are constructed and put together.

"One house in particular has been used by me for several years, part of that time as a playhouse for my little girl, but it became too small for her so I purchased a larger Hodgson House for her and turned the other one over for a tool house and there it will probably stay doing good service and no doubt outlast both the gardener and myself.

"I have also used these houses at Goldens Bridge and I am now erecting them at Stone Hedge. I do not know just how they were developed but I will say that they are the nearest thing to perfection in their line, or the nearest thing to 100 per cent plus that I know of."

Very truly yours,

JOHN MCENTEE BOWMAN.

In the Florida Hurricane — Fall of 1926 . .

"The house which I purchased from you and erected on my property at Palm Beach, Florida, is very satisfactory. As you no doubt know, we had two very severe rain and wind storms at Palm Beach. The house has survived both storms with practically little damage. With the exception of some water leaking in around the windows, the house is in excellent condition. This is by far more than I can say for nine-tenths of the houses built in Palm Beach."

"The Hodgson House which I erected gave me a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction last summer. It was up to my expectations in every way and my only regret is that for business reasons I cannot use the house the year around, instead of only four months of the year."

"A Heatilator unit was installed in the fireplace of my Hodgson House and is very satisfactory. In fact, I was very much surprised at the amount of additional heat which this unit will give out. I used wood entirely and in freezing weather found that it would heat my living room very comfortably."

Gable to Gable End

Erected at a Known Cost Without Fuss . . .

"I am glad to say that the Hodgson House has been most satisfactory and everything that you said it would be.

"I think that one of the nicest things about building one of your houses is that one can know the cost, almost to a dollar, before starting to build. There are no distressing 'extras' run in at the last minute, and there are no delays that so often come with building. The house can be erected in a week or two with none of the anxiety that generally comes with interviews with one's architect or contractor. Besides, there is nothing left to the imagination, for by going to one of your outdoor exhibits one can see just what the chosen house is going to look like when completed. This is a great thing for the people who cannot read an architect's plans readily.

"The Hodgson Houses are certainly by far the best of their kind on account of 'the unit system.' By that system one can combine the different items just as one wishes, choosing this kind of shutter, and that kind of door, etc., until one's own house emerges."

The Phillips Properties . . .

1218 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C.

"After erecting one of the cottages and almost completing the erection of the second at Ebensburg, Pa., a very severe storm in Ohio swept over the western part of Pennsylvania. It was one of the worst storms I have ever seen in that part of the country. Trees were blown down; telephone and electric light wires were destroyed and portions of the electric light plant in the village were temporarily out of commission. Both the completed and the uncompleted cottages stood the storm splendidly. The roof of the uncompleted cottage had not been bolted together; yet there was not enough water leaked through the roof to fill a good sized coffee cup. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips are very much pleased with the service that these cottages have rendered. They have caused considerable comment in Cambria County, and so far as we know there has been not an unfavorable expression from anybody. If you care to refer any prospective customer to us for an expression of our experience, we will be glad to speak in this way regarding our transactions with you."

This Hodgson Cottage and Garage combination is an attractive and practical layout for a small family.

On page 56 we show other plans of garages with chauffeur's quarters. We make these combinations so that the living quarters have the usual hard pine floor and the garage sections are furnished without a floor, the owners to put in concrete floors after the buildings are erected.

The fieldstone chimney and fireplace, and the two pairs of French Glass Doors, make an unusually attractive and desirable living room. The entire building can be very easily heated if it is to be used the year around.

If you have plans of your own we would be pleased to figure on them.

"After occupying our house at Acoaxet, Mass., from the middle of May to the middle of October for three successive seasons, I can stake that it has been absolutely successful, and that its arrangements have been ideal. It has withstood many severe storms, particularly the great hurricane of August 26, 1924, when the sea repeatedly broke over the wall in front of the house and rolled underneath the house and burst open the dining room door, and flooded the room of which pictures are enclosed. After the storm subsided and we had dried things up, we found that there was not one single repair to be made to any part of the building."

RICHARD K. HAWES.

This Hodgson Cottage, erected on the shores of Lake Ontario, has stood there for years and is even more appreciated by its owner today than when first erected. It has an attractive rear entrance as shown here, but the front side toward the lake is still more inviting. The little house is not only commodiously comfortable within, but pleasant to look upon from without, and has added several times its cost to the convenience of my household. Its immediate availability has saved me the cost and inconvenience of extensive alterations to my home, to say nothing of the avoidance of delays in construction. When a man can have a three-room extension made to his house in less than twenty-four hours, and accomplish it all without the noise and litter of actual building, he may account himself several times blest—and that is my frame of mind, in sending you my check and my thanks."

Figuring Cost of Houses . . .

To illustrate our method of figuring prices on the cottages shown on pages 6 to 43, we take as an example Cottage No. 3334, page 34, and give on that page an itemized list of everything that enters into the complete house.

As you will see by this itemized list, the price includes all units that go to make up the house, the porches, partitions, closets, doors, windows and shutters as shown in the plan and photograph.

The price does not include screens, shades, flower boxes, awnings or cabinets or fittings as shown on pages 44 and 45.

We should be pleased to send you such an itemized list of any of our cottages so that you can tell exactly what is included in the price and how it is figured.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Are Hodgson Houses Practical?

Thousands of people in every climate of the globe, under all sorts of conditions, are today living, sleeping, playing, working, in Hodgson Houses. Proof of this is shown by letters and actual photographs in this catalog. Forty years of experience, the latest machinery, trained workmen, and perfect materials, are bent to the task of making Hodgson Houses the most efficient and economical that human skill can produce.

Do They Look Attractive?

Attractive enough to be erected without changes on many of the finest estates in America, adjacent to costly mansions. Hodgson Houses have won special praise for their harmonious lines, charm and good taste.

Are They Durable?

Orders are constantly coming in for additions to Hodgson Houses purchased many years ago, and in constant use since. Hodgson Houses stand up without repairs for years. They are built of enduring materials and built right. The enthusiastic testimony of actual users is the best proof of these claims. (See letters printed in this catalog.)

What Are They Made Of?

Rather than use a heavy cheap lumber (similar to carpenter construction) that is expensive to ship and erect, less artistic and less durable, and put together in a way that leaves much for the purchaser to do and requires a continual expense to keep in repair, we use for a frame, clear, strong, Oregon pine, covered with enduring cedar (walls and roofs) backed with a heavy fibre lining, making a strong, durable, and absolutely weatherproof building, requiring few repairs, with a roof guaranteed to stay tight for years, inexpensive to ship and easily erected by unskilled labor. The floors are of rift Oregon pine.

How Does Cedar Compare with Other Woods?

Woods differ in their characteristics, many of them being very short lived if exposed to outside elements. Cedar, which is the entire outside covering of the Hodgson Houses, is a wood that neither shrinks nor swells. It is distinguished by its resistance to decay. Since the days of the famous "Cedars of Lebanon," its enduring qualities have been well known—and it is often called "The Wood of the Ages." Trees from which this cedar is made have grown on the mountain sides of the Northwest for centuries. Fallen cedars lie on the mountain sides for centuries and still remain perfectly sound. According to government tests there is no wood of commercial value that exceeds cedar in endurance.

The fragrance of cedar is very pleasing to persons but it cannot be endured by insects. It is free from sap and is slow burning. It is light in weight compared with other wood and saves freight costs. No wood holds paint better. After 30 years' experience with cedar we do not know of any wood better suited for our purpose.

How Are They Made?

In sections, each section with windows and doors fitted in place and with all hardware attached; nothing left for you to do but set up these sections, and drive in wedge keybolts with a hammer—quickly done, no skill required, and when put together are as rigid as a permanent building.

What is the Outside Finish?

Hodgson Houses may be had in either our narrow or wide Colonial Siding. The wide siding is 8" wide; the narrow 3" wide. Both of these sidings are shown in pictures throughout the catalog. The prices quoted are for the narrow siding with the additional cost if wide siding is wanted.

Are the Houses Painted?

Yes, with the very best lead and oil paints obtainable. The first coat is a dipping coat, thoroughly waterproofing every part of the entire covering of cedar used in our houses. After this two more coats are applied by brush.

Our stock colors are white sides with Colonial green roof, blinds and doors. If other colors are desired there is a slight additional charge.

For no extra charge, the houses may be stained brown sides with green roof and trimmings.

What are the Single and Double Wall Constructions?

The single wall construction—Fibre Lined—shows the frame of the building on the interior with a background of the heavy tan colored rope fibre lining. With this construction the partitions are made of Oregon sheathing.

The double wall construction—Arctic Lined—is the same as the single wall with the addition of the Arctic Board covering the inside frame, forming a dead air space between the inside and outside walls. When a house is termed Arctic (Celotex) Lined, it means that the side walls, the roofs and the floors are lined with Arctic Board, and that the partitions are made double of it—a construction better insulated than a well built plastered house.

If the house is to be used throughout the year, we recommend the double wall construction. If you buy the single walled house, you can at any time line the interior with one of the numerous materials for this purpose; or plaster it if you prefer.

What is Arctic Board?

It is a cane fibre board, $\frac{1}{2}$ " thick, commercially known as Celotex, and we believe it to be the best insulator of heat, cold, and sound yet produced.

What is the Inside Finish?

The interior woodwork of the single wall house is stained a walnut brown. This with the background of the tan fibre lining makes an attractive, neat and sanitary finish for summer use.

When the houses are Arctic lined, the woodwork and the strips over the Arctic boarding, as shown in several of the interior pictures in this catalog, are stained a walnut brown—a very attractive contrast with the cane colored Arctic board, taking away the plain effect from the walls. These strips, however, may be eliminated and a single strip only used every six feet apart, which is the width of the Arctic board. If you do not care for the walnut brown finish on our woodwork, we can leave the wood unstained for your own decoration. Our Arctic board is easily tinted or wall papered.

Do the Houses Have Ceilings?

Yes, if wanted. Some prefer all rooms open into the roof, which gives a more airy and lofty appearance. Without ceilings all rooms have partition peaks, entirely separating the rooms, ceilings being over only baths, closets, etc. All ceilings are made of Arctic board laid in panels on ceiling beams. Many of the pictures show rooms with and without ceilings.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Are They Comfortable Winter and Summer?

For summer, or eight months in the year, our fibre lined single wall houses have been used for many years with wonderful success; but for very cold weather or hot climates we recommend our double walled Arctic lined houses for protection against excessive heat and extreme cold. At Dover we have an attractive wooded park of several acres on which are erected many of our Arctic lined houses, having cellars, with furnaces, plumbing, electric lights, in fact, everything for the comfort of the tenants for use the year around. These houses heat much easier than the conventional built house and are so comfortable and attractive that we have a long waiting list of tenants for them.

What Are They Used For?

For seaside and mountain summer homes, country homes, guest houses, overflow houses, studios, sun parlors, summer and winter camps, play houses, boys' and girls' camps, schools, churches, club houses, hospitals, and innumerable other purposes. Many are used as homes on large estates while building operations are going on or after a fire.

Are Hodgson Houses Proof Against Heavy Rain, Snow and Wind Storms, Heat and Severe Cold?

This question is answered many times throughout this catalog by our customers, with actual proof shown by the photographs. Hodgson Houses have stood on bleak islands, and on the most exposed parts of the Atlantic Coast, as well as being buried in snow in Northern Maine, the White Mountains, Labrador. After eight years' use in Labrador, another Hodgson House of several rooms was sent there. Yet they are also used in the hottest countries with satisfaction and comfort, as illustrated on pages 61 to 63.

What is the Foundation?

A treated post foundation lasts for many years and makes a good reasonably priced foundation, if well set. Naturally cement or brick piers are more lasting; sometimes it is wise to put the house on a wall foundation. If the house is used the year around a cellar under at least a part of it, and a heater, insure comfort. We do not furnish the foundation unless an extra charge is made for same. We do, however, furnish a foundation plan for any type of foundation desired.

Does a Hodgson House Require Skilled Labor to Erect?

No, one man mechanically inclined, and a couple of "handy men", following our very simple directions, can easily set up a Hodgson House.

With the larger houses we recommend one of our working foremen, to superintend and help in the erection, for which a small charge is made.

How Long Does It Take to Set Them Up?

The smaller Hodgson Houses can be erected in a day, and the larger houses in four or more days.

Can the Hodgson Co. Erect a House For Me?

Yes, we do this in two ways. We will quote a price delivered and erected, taking care of all expenses; or we can furnish a working foreman and he or you can hire local help to assist him. For our man's services we charge per hour and his expenses. This is the cheaper way as by hiring local help carfares and living expenses for helpers are eliminated.

What are the Advantages of a Hodgson House as Compared with Building in the Usual Way?

The saving in time, trouble, and money is very substantial; your house is ready in a few days instead of a few months, and you do not have to worry about plans, construction, materials, labor, and supervision, not to mention "extras." The real money saving to a busy man is thus even greater than the cost figures would show. Moreover, the house is more salable because movable, or you can move it yourself to other locations. It can, therefore, be erected on leased land. It can be easily enlarged at any time, and a great deal of our business each year is making these additional units. The houses have a charm and an attraction inside and out that a conventional built house cannot have even at a far greater cost. It is this feature in a Hodgson House that will appeal to you strongly after you have lived in one or seen one.

How are the Prices Figured?

On page 34 we show a list of items that go to make up the price of one of our houses, based on our unit system, as described on pages 46 and 47.

All of our cottages are figured on the same basis, insuring to our customers uniform and known prices. To eliminate any of the items, reduces the prices accordingly.

We should be pleased to itemize the cost of any of our plans that you may be interested in.

Can You Make Changes in Your Plans?

Yes, we can make changes to meet your requirements. Many of the houses we build are "tailor made" to suit the need of the purchaser. This without any extra cost.

If there is no plan in the catalog that suits you, let us know what you need, so that we may submit a plan—with no obligation on your part.

How About Plumbing and Heating?

Hodgson Houses can be heated and plumbed the same as any house at a less expense. There are many types of heating appliances, some requiring cellars—others which do not. Metal, or brick chimneys, with portable, or brick or stone fireplaces are nearly always used. We furnish, when desired, at extra cost, all plumbing fixtures necessary for any house. These fixtures are described on page 44.

Are the Houses Screened?

Our houses are screened to make them absolutely fly and mosquito proof. We use very fine copper netting. The cost to screen any of our houses or porches is given on pages 46 and 47.

How is a Hodgson House Shipped?

Compactly, in sections, by third-class freight, put in the cars at Dover, Mass., on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R.R. Or we can quote trucking price delivered on your grounds.

What are the Terms of Payment?

The prices listed in the catalog are absolutely net. A deposit of 25% is required with all orders when placed. The balance may be paid prior to shipment, sight draft attached to bill of lading, or if satisfactory references are given, the balance may be paid after goods are received.

"The camp house arrived and was hauled out to the camp site immediately, where it lay flat on the ground for four days, during the hardest rain we have experienced for many months. We were much worried for fear it would be warped, but when it was erected (in one day) it was found to be in practically perfect condition. No difficulties were found in erecting it.

STYLE R AND S GARAGES

These Garages are made up of the same units as the Camp Houses, so that they can be increased in size to fit your car. The doors, having glass, give plenty of light, so that no windows are necessary. This saves expense and oftentimes is desirable, especially if the Garage is used only during the summer months.

Style R Garage

With 2 Windows and Shutters	162.50
Style S Garage 10 x 20 ft. without Windows	170.00

With One Window with Shutters in back end	180.00
Windows are figured at	8.00 each
Shutters, per pair	2.00
Side Panel Doors	10.00 each

These Garages are not painted, but they are oiled outside and stained inside. The prices are quoted without wooden floors. If wooden floors are wanted, add $30.00 for a 10 x 15 ft. Garage; and $40.00 for a 10 x 20 ft. Garage.

HODGSON GARAGES

Their construction and details in general will be found on pages 46 and 47. They are all made in complete sections with doors, windows, etc., fitted in place. The exterior is either painted or stained with Cabot's stains, if desired.

Doors: Door openings are 8 ft. wide and 7 ft. 4 inches high. They are hung on heavy hinges with automatic door holders to hold them open, which can be released by a chain pull. Thumb latches and padlocks are used. Smaller doors can be put in the sides or end of garage, if desired.

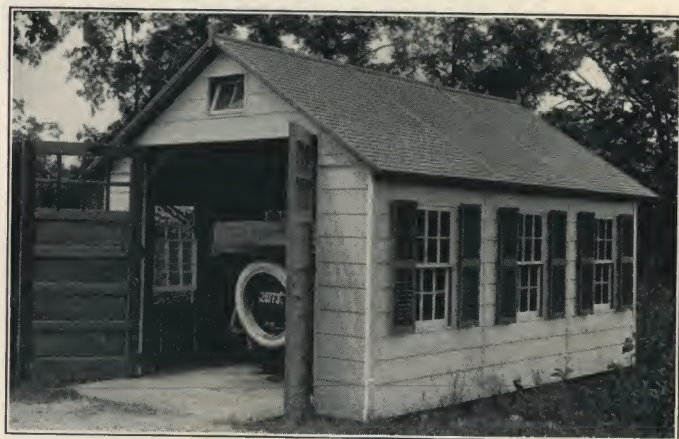

Windows: The windows are double hung and have locks. Blinds are furnished where shown.

Floors: Prices are given with wooden floor, and without floors. If ordered without a floor, foundation sills are sent, on which the garage rests. Cement or dirt floors can be put in by owner. We furnish a floor plan.

Roofs: Are covered with our special rabbetted red cedar roofing, and painted, making a most durable and attractive roof. If fire laws in your place call for non-combustible roof coverings, we use a neat V-crimp galvanized iron, and paint it; or asphalt shingles may be used if you prefer.

Sides: Our buildings can be covered with either the narrow siding or wide Colonial siding, as shown in a few of the pictures. The Colonial siding costs 5 per cent more. If you wish double walls and roof add 30% to price.

In all of these garages six windows and blinds are included in price; if less are wanted deduct $8.00 per window and $4.00 per pr. blinds.

HODGSON HOUSES FOR VARIOUS PURPOSES

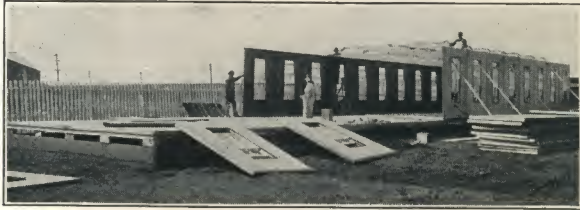

On this and the two following pages are shown Hodgson Houses used for various purposes. We have not gone into details regarding these houses, leaving that part to correspondence. Let us know what you are interested in. Our sectional houses have proved of great value in emergency cases. Being made in completely finished sections, they are quickly erected. With the windows, doors, etc., fitted in place, the exterior painted, the interior stained, they are complete leaving little work for the purchaser to do.

Our cedar roofs are finished when you receive the house — you do not have to shingle or paper your roof after the building is up. This protects the interior of the building during erection. After forty years' experience with this roof we have yet to find a more durable or practical one for a sectional house. Metal or shingled roof can be had if desired.

Leveling Floor Sections

Each section is completely finished (not a lot of joist and boards to lay, requiring much labor to complete). Our construction makes a strong floor that is quickly laid.

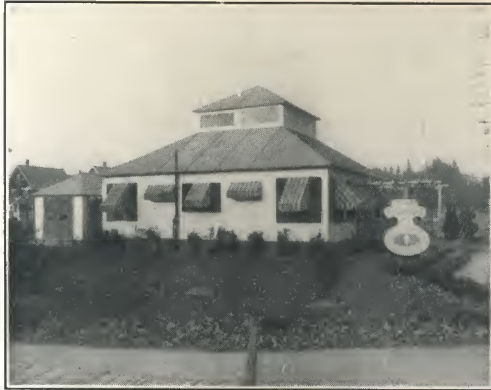

Putting Up Sides and Trusses

Each section is completely finished with doors or windows hung, painted three coats, leaving nothing to do after the few key bolts are quickly put in that hold the sections rigidly together.

Putting On the Roofs

Each section is completely finished and painted three coats. When key bolted together, which is quickly done, the building is finished, thus doing away with the application of ready roofings each time the building is erected, requiring much time and presenting an unsightly appearance. Our roofs are attractive and have lasted for years without repairs.

House of the Edison Light

This Hodgson House, a large bungalow, was built for the Boston Edison Co. many years ago, and was moved from town to town in the suburbs of Boston. It demonstrated for the Edison Co. the practical use of electricity in the home.

HODGSON SCHOOLHOUSES

Many School Boards realize the important place a Hodgson Schoolhouse fills in their town. With a growing or shifting population, it is a continual struggle on the part of the Superintendent of Schools, or the School Board, to give the children proper schooling.

The crowding out of a class or two does not warrant the building of a new school or enlarging the present one. Even if the conditions do warrant such additions, it is going to take many months to build, and it is in just such cases that a Hodgson Schoolhouse is of inestimable value. It is quickly erected in the school yard or an adjoining lot and has its independent heating and ventilating system.

Hodgson Houses in the Gay Nineties, in Labrador, Moosehead Lake, etc.

First factory built in 1892
40 years' experience making Hodgson Houses

THE INTERESTING STORY OF A UNIQUE BUSINESS

Forty years ago a youngster with an ingenious mind conceived the idea of building small houses in a new way—completely in sections, that could be shipped anywhere, that could be erected by anyone in a few hours' time without the use of nails—simply bolted together.

Soon this ingenious young pioneer, Ernest F. Hodgson, built himself this small factory and equipped it with machinery. Thus was born the business that has grown in these forty years to such tremendous proportions.

This same inventive man, E. F. Hodgson, is still its active head.

Mr. Hodgson at first made small houses for all sorts of purposes—dog houses, poultry houses, tool houses; then one room camp houses, and soon came summer houses of several rooms.

But it was in the glamorous days of 1900, when that marvelous invention the "horseless carriage", came into use that the business gained great momentum.

At that time came the demand for "Auto Stables", as they were called. The use of the automobile also brought an increased demand for the Hodgson cottage and vacation houses. This demand came from all parts of the country, and indeed from many foreign countries. Today there are Hodgson houses in Africa; in Jerusalem; in Greece; in Turkey;

Indian Harbor, Labrador

"I am not in the habit of writing testimonials, but the cottage which you sold me years ago has stood rather an exceptional test, I imagine, and it seems only fair to acknowledge it.

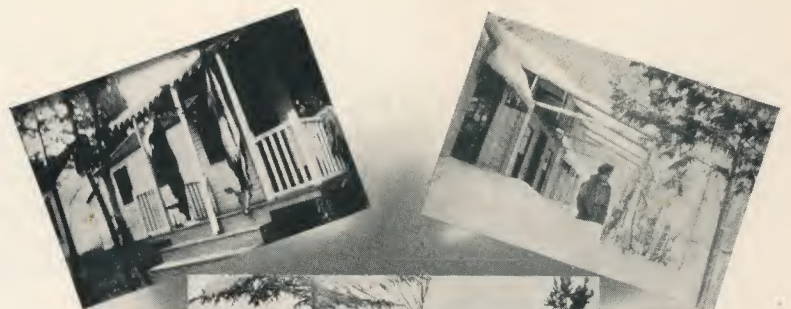

"It stands on a little rocky eminence about 120 feet above the harbor level. The site was chosen because of the superb view of the harbor and bay rather than for shelter, and a good deal of risk to the building was thereby involved.

"The strength and endurance of so light a building is really amazing. While we only reside in it some four months each year, as our winter headquarters are 140 miles up the bay, it has always been a real pleasure to come back to it and a certain amount of initial trepidation, when the full fury of a storm was felt, has given way to a confidence arising from the conviction that no harder test is possible than some of those experienced during the last years."

This Hodgson House of 5 rooms was exhibited at the Sportsman's Show, New York, in 1907 and purchased there by Mrs. Nelson.

This Hodgson House has many times been buried under six feet of snow.

"I am enclosing a few pictures of some of your portable houses which I had erected in the little town of Ali some few miles out of Messina for the refugees from Messina. They were exactly what were needed for this emergency, and my only difficulty arose from the fact that I did not have enough to supply the demand when once they had been seen."

in Belgium; in Italy; in South America; in Nicaragua; in Honolulu; in Newfoundland; Labrador; and other foreign countries.

We know that many of the houses Mr. Hodgson first built are still in use and in fine condition, bearing silent testimony to the enduring qualities of his ingenious construction.

Mr. Hodgson has kept in step with modern progress. Improvements in construction, materials and finish have been constantly made from year to year, so that today our Houses are unique.

The few pictures shown on pages 61 to 63, of houses purchased in bygone days, have an historical interest and demonstrate the originality of Mr. Hodgson's idea.

The illustrations on the other pages, of the houses being made today, demonstrate the continued value of his achievement.

If you can call at one of our salesrooms or outdoor exhibits it will be a pleasure to show you the houses themselves. You will be surprised and pleased.

After the Earthquake in the Capital of Nicaragua

What was left of Managua, Nicaragua, six seconds after the earthquake of April, 1931. "Time" magazine stated "End of a city", yet several Hodgson Houses soon sprung up, being the first buildings erected in the stricken city of 35,000 population.

In Managua transportation was difficult, yet it did not keep the Hodgson Co. from quickly erecting their houses. Today these houses are the most comfortable and attractive buildings in Managua. They are cooler than the Spanish type of building. We erected them completely—with plumbing, electric lighting, etc.
